

Keys to Effective Leadership

DAN M^cGEE, PhD

2010

Know who you are

And get comfortable with the real you.

Lead out of your known strengths,

Not another's, regardless of their abilities.

Give up on your need for recognition

And take joy in the successes of others.

Celebrate your common mission

By affirming their efforts.

Risk rejection of those in power when your gut says,

“This is right to do!”

Pay attention to the details,

But step back periodically to look at the big picture.

Ride the wave of success with gratitude,

Knowing that only the hand of God

Can do so much with so little.

www.drданmcgee.com info@drданmcgee.com

Copyright © 2010 by Dan McGee, Ph.D., Arlington, Texas

Permission to reprint in whole when the following credit appears: "Reprinted with permission from Dan McGee, Ph.D., www.drданmcgee.com (Copyright © 2010 Dan McGee, Ph.D.)"